

Cypress Pond provides a focal point in this winter scene.

The graves of Archibald McIntyre, James McNaughton and David Henderson, explorers of the Adirondacks, are surrounded by fall foliage.

Winding roads, part of the original Carriage Trail Tour, still provide varied vistas.

an outdoor oasis

Albany Rural Cemetery comprises 467 acres of varied terrain, streams, lakes, winding paths and extensive natural and planted landscaping, located on sweeping slopes leading down to the Hudson River. It has been a scenic attraction since its inception and is still enjoyed by many in our community throughout the seasons of the year. There is an abundance of wildlife, especially in the numerous stream corridors and wooded ravines, that form a dramatic rolling landscape. Passive recreational activities include walking, jogging, birdwatching, and quiet contemplation of the scenic beauty and art.
